Disha Patani Pics in Sexy Calvin Klein: All the Time When Hot Indian Actress Breathed Fire With #MyCalvins on Instagram.

Calvin Klein is one brand our favourite celebs from the west love and importantly flaunt on social media. Kendall Jenner, Kim Kardashian, Miranda Kerr, Michael B. Jordan, Zac Efron, and so many more love to show off their signature underwear with Calvin Klein initials. Closer to home, model-actress Disha Patani is guilty of obsessing over #MyCalvins. The bold and beautiful Disha loves Calvin Klein, and her frequent picture posts on Instagram is a good proof of it. It is another thing that her pictures in bra and undies are often met with a lot of criticisms, thanks to the traditional (read: narrow-minded orthodox) netizens of the country. Nevertheless, there's no stopping Disha as she continues to pose and post her scantily-clad photos on Instagram in her favourite innerwear.

Unlike American model Kendall Jenner who is the face of Calvin Klein campaign, Disha is no official brand ambassador. Though the 26-year-old had hinted of an association in one of her posts, whose caption read: "Just wrapped! A great association coming up real soon with my most favourite brand, most excited." She had written this alongside a racy picture that showed off her desirable curves to the perfection. It would undoubtedly be CK's loss not to have this sexy starlet as their promoter. The Baaghi 2 actress is a loyalist when it comes to the famous innerwear brand. Come on; she teamed up a pastel sports bra with lehenga on the occasion of Diwali. Says much about the love and association.

Apart from very random photo shoot stills, Disha has also donned Calvin Klein for her appearance on magazine covers. As Cosmopolitan India mag cover girl, the Bharat actress wore a set of a black sports bra and matching brief with a denim jacket. Recently, she was on the covers of Grazia magazine, and Disha again opted for a black CK sports bra. But this time, the youngster wore blue denim and black jacket with it. Let us look at all the time when Disha Patani set Instagram on fire with her smouldering hot self in #MyCalvins.

Disha Patani's Insta family is 14.8 million followers strong. And every time their favourite star posts a saucy pic in her favourite undies and bra, the internet collectively loses it. Such is the star power of Disha, the social media celebrity. As for her filmy career, it is also moving in the right direction.
