The new year may have only kicked off a few short weeks ago but actor Salma Hayek just wants to pop on a bikini and chill out at the beach – and who can blame her?

The Mexican-American star took to Instagram on Wednesday to share a pair of sizzling snaps of herself wearing a black two-piece swimsuit while zenning out in the sea.

“We need to keep our cool,” the 54-year-old instructed her 17 million followers, adding the hashtags #instamood and #calm for good measure.

Indeed, Salma looked the picture of calm in both pics, particularly one that showed her sitting cross-legged on the sand with her eyes closed and her hands in the traditional meditation position on her knees.

The Grown Ups star’s fans couldn’t get enough of her relaxed vibes, with one exclaiming, “2021 looking great!” in the comments.

Another called Salma “Diosa,” which means “goddess” in Spanish while a third declared her to be “the most perfect woman in the world.”

The mum-of-one is wise to take some time out ahead of her busy year, with three films expected to hit cinemas in the next 12 months.

First up is the sci-fi/romance Bliss with Owen Wilson, followed by The Hitman's Wife's Bodyguard with Ryan Reynolds and the highly anticipated Marvel blockbuster, The Eternals, that picks up where 2019’s Avengers: Endgame left off.

Salma shares a 13-year-old daughter, Valentina Paloma Pinault, with her French billionaire businessman husband, François-Henri Pinault, who she wed on Valentine’s Day in 2009.
