Nadia Sawalha stripped to a teeny tiny bikini as she showed her support for England in Euro 2020 final.

The 56-year-old star recreated a sexy snap posted by a stunning model - and couldn't resist poking fun at it.

Nadia stripped to a teeny bikini to support England

The original image showed a blonde beauty wearing an England flag string bikini, holding onto a shield and sword.

Nadia added her own interpretation of the pic, hand-painting a red cross onto her white string bikini to represent the flag.

The two-piece is notably too small, and Nadia proudly has her bare stomach on display.

She is holding onto a handmade shield, but improvised with a floral broom stick in lieu of a sword.

The Loose Woman is known for her hilarious Instagram posts

The Loose Women favourite captioned the post: "SWIPE ACROSS .. THE TWINNING IS ðŸ™ª"

"ITâ€™S COMING HOME .."

Nadia is known for her hilarious social media posts where she mocks other people's sexy snaps.

She regularly pokes fun at Kim Kardashian's posts

She regularly recreates Kim Kardashian's promotional posts for her various products and brands.

And her most recent snap was just as well-received by followers as her past ones.

One commented: "Utterly rocking it! Thank you for being real and reminding us of all our beauty!"
