Jennifer Lopez looked sensational in a series of sizzling bikini snaps. The 52-year-old singer and actress showed off her toned tummy and enviable legs as she posed by the pool.

Sharing the pictures with her 210 million Instagram followers, the mother-of-two declared: "Summer mode: activated."

The star paired her string-tie black bikini with a matching long butterfly print kimono.

With her brunette hair falling across her face, JLo accessorised her look with oversized hoop earrings and Versace sunglasses.

The businesswoman wore a pair of high-heeled cream sandals from her JLO Jennifer Lopez shoe line.

Lopez also shared a video of herself working her angles for the camera, with the family's goldendoodle Tyson wandering around in and out of shot.

The I'm Real hitmaker is currently engaged to Batman actor Ben Affleck, 49, after the pair rekindled their romance last year.

Affleck made things serious when he proposed earlier this year and JLo was spotted wearing a massive diamond ring days before the announcement.

Jennifer and Ben famously dated nearly two decades ago and got engaged for the first time in November 2002 before they split in 2004.

Jennifer shares 14-year-old twins Emme and Max with Marc Anthony, her ex-husband.

Prior to revisiting her relationship with the Tender Bar star, she was engaged to Alex "A-Rod" Rodriguez.

Ben, meanwhile, is dad to Violet, 16, Seraphina, 13, and Samuel, 10 – all of whom he shares with ex-wife Jennifer Garner.
